When the volunteers, headed up by Harry Ferguson, Toby Inge and Grover Beasley, Jr., stop by your house, give generously to help this worthy cause. Remember, on Wednesday night, leave your porch light on, the latch string out and the dogs tied up, the Rescue Squad'll be coming your way.

Rural Cooperatives Face Rate Hike

Virginia's rural electric cooperatives were hit today by a highly inflationary 23.96 percent rate increase proposal by the Virginia Electric and Power Company (VEPCO).

Rural electric leaders claim the new rate violates a long-standing working agreement between the cooperatives and VEPCO. Historically, the rural electric cooperatives of the Commonwealth have been restricted to electric distribution in rural areas, and VEPCO has the generation and transmission rights. This agreement was established by the State Corporation Commission (SCC) in the Old Dominion case some twenty years ago.

At that time the cooperatives considered VEPCO's rates excessive and proposed to generate and transmit their own electrical requirements. VEPCO intervened with the SCC, however, and the outcome was that the SCC forbade the cooperatives to generate their own power. A wholesale rate low enough so that the cooperatives could offer retail rates comparable to VEPCO residential rates was offered, and the SCC directed that the cooperatives accept this rate.

From that time until now, Virginia's electric cooperatives have accepted their role handed down by the SCC, but VEPCO's proposed rate increase is aimed at striking down established agreements.

The new rate proposal is a two-part rate based both on demand and energy. A new feature of the proposal is the demand clause, which places a substantial financial burden on small delivery points between VEPCO and cooperative lines. The State Corporation Commission (SCC) encouraged, and in some instances required, cooperatives to observe the small delivery point concept. Now, if the VEPCO proposal is granted, the cooperatives will be penalized for living-up to their agreement of some 20-years standing.

Additional aspects of the proposed rate increase are a fuel clause to cover cost increases in fossil fuels and a summer rachet feature which increases the cost of electricity in the summer when the demand is greater.

Electric cooperatives, by law, make no profit. Thus, any large increase imposed upon the cooperatives must be apportioned to the individual members of each cooperative.

The dollar increase to the 15 rural electric cooperatives of Virginia would amount to $2,648,410.36. In 1971, the total revenue which the cooperatives paid VEPCO was $11,051,911.76. The total revenue of the proposed rates would be $13,700,322.12.

VEPCO has notified the cooperatives of its intention to file the new rate proposal with the Federal Power Commission on, or after, November 15, 1972. The rate, if granted, would become effective 60 days later.

Oysters "R" in Season All Year

Blacksburg - Oyster lovers no longer need to restrict their appetites to those months whose names contain the letter "R".

George Flick, assistant professor of food science and technology at Virginia Tech says that contemporary harvesting, processing, packaging, and refrigeration methods make these seafood delicacies available to the consumer all year.

Oysters are very perishable, especially during warm weather or if left unrefrigerated for any length of time. Also, oysters spawn in the early summer and during this time they become watery, contain little solid meat, and lack flavor. Consequently, before the advent of modern harvesting and preserving techniques, it was considered dangerous to eat oysters during the months of May, June, July and August.

Oysters are now harvested during their prime season and are packaged and refrigerated so that they may be marketed throughout the year. Fresh oysters, in their shells or packaged in cardboard containers, will remain fresh for a week or 10 days if refrigerated or packed in ice. Canned or frozen oysters will remain fresh indefinitely if the cans are unopened or they remain frozen. The Extension seafood technologist cautions, however, that oysters should be eaten soon after they are removed from their containers and that frozen oysters, once thawed, should never be re-frozen.

Consumers unfamiliar with oysters may question their edibility because of some odd appearance characteristi c e s such as green gills, an overall greenish tinge, red to dark red coloration, and brown spots. These characterists are normal and do not indicate that the oyster would be harmful to eat, Flick says.

Flick explains that green gills are caused by the chlorophyl contained in the plants eaten by oysters. Greenish or red coloration is caused by harmless copper concentrates and red pigments contained in the oyster's food. Brown spots are caused by normal biochemical reactions.

However, he cautions the consumer to be on the lookout for pink coloration of oysters or their liquor. This is caused by the formation of yeasts and is the result of unsanitary harvesting or processing conditions. Such oysters are not safe to eat.

So, forget the old saying, Oysters "R" in season all year and will provide many welcome and delicious changes of menu.

Mt. Airy Reports Successful Revival

The local Mount Airy Baptist Church reported a very successful revival last Friday evening at its closing service. The pastor, Rev. H. W. Pryor, announced 21 additions to be added to the membership of the church. All the candidates are asked to meet at the Springfield Baptist Church this Saturday for the annual baptism service.

An informative meeting of the local chapter of the NAACP was held at the Mount Airy Baptist Church last Monday evening. All who attended were well informed on some of the policies of the Appomattox School Board. Superintendent Eugene Peyton was the guest speaker.

Plans have been completed for the annual meeting of the East and West Bound Sunday School Union to be held at the Chestnut Grove Baptist Church on the fifth Sunday morning in this month at 10 a.m. All schools are asked to send delegates and bring a special talent for the youth program. The pastor of the church will bring the annual message. The public is invited to attend.

Impressive services were held at the Mount Shiloh Baptist Church last Sunday morning. The Rev. Barry Williams, pastor of the New Vine Baptist Church, was the guest speaker. All who attended enjoyed the service.

The pastor, officers and members of the Mount Shiloh Baptist Church are asking all members to plan to attend the regular evening service on the fourth Sunday evening in this month at 7 p.m. The Rev. Freeman Johnson will be the guest speaker. Each member is asked to bring a love gift for Rev. Johnson. The Junior Choir will render music.

The choir festival held at the Mount Obed Baptist Church last Sunday evening was a great success. Seven local choirs took an active part. The program was given for the benefit of the local Mount Obed Choir.

All officers and members are cordially invited to attend the regular preaching service at the Galilee Baptist Church this Sunday morning at 11 a.m. The Rev. H. J. Henderson will have charge of the service and deliver the morning message.

Rev. R. Q. Lawing was the guest minister at the St. Joy Baptist Church last Sunday morning at the 11:30 service. A large crowd attended the regular worship.

Mrs. F. J. Lawing and son, Timotheous, motored to Baltimore last Friday and were the guests of her daughter. Mrs. Jackie Poteat and family.

Mrs. Laetria Goode spent the week end in Baltmore as the guest of Mrs. Georgia Webb Jones.

We extend our sympathy to Mrs. Dorothy Stevens in the death of her aunt, Mrs. Howard of New York City, and also the Mrs. Elizabeth Scott of Concord, Va. in the death of her father, Mr. Douglass Patterson.

Rufus B. McDannell, Pastor
Sabboth School Lesson 2 - Oct. 8 -14, 1972
Subject; God's Warnings
Scripture Text: "And now I have told you before it come to pass that when it is come to pass, ye might believe". John 14:29.

Part 1. God communicates with man. Amos 3:6,7 Shall a trumpet be blown in the city and the people not be afraid? Shall there be evil in a city and the Lord hath not done it? Surely the Lord God will do nothing but he revealeth his secret unto his servants the prophets". Today men and nations are being tested by the plummit in the hand of Him who makes no mistakes. All are by their own choice deciding their destiny and God is overruling all for the accomplishment of his purposes.

FAMILY NIGHT AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Members of the Appomattox Courthouse Presbyterian Church will observe Family Night with a Covered Dish Supper, Thursday, October 19, at 6:30 p. m. Guests will include Mr. Ryland Watts, Fork Union Presbyterian Church and Rev. Fred Albright, Pastor of Maysville Presbyterian Church, Buckingham, who will discuss the Capital Funds Campaign for Camp Hat Creek which has been approved by Appomattox Presbytery.

The Campaign will run for three years, 1973-1975, and the fund used for needed camp facilities.
